Paula's Panui

We have had a very busy couple of weeks around our school with what I would describe as "lots of moving pieces". We have moved two thirds of our school population into different learning spaces from where they were and relocated, all of the library books back to where they belong and we are working through the reorganisation and stock take at the moment.

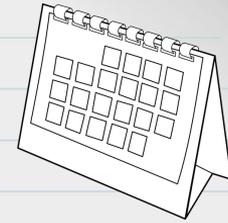

Our cross country event was a great success. We thank the many parents and family members that came along to support. Judging by the very full parking field and the very empty buses on the way back, I would say we had over 80% of families come along. As a staff we wanted to acknowledge some of the students who demonstrated real spirit on the day – by supporting others, or overcoming their own personal challenges to compete or who just gave a go and had fun. We gave out certificates for this at our last assembly.

NYLD WITH THE BLACK HATS

National young leaders day was an inspiring motivational day! There were incredible speakers talking about their journeys in becoming the people that they are today. They taught us how to become entrepreneurs and that perspective is everything! We were lucky enough to hear the amazing speeches about different artists, 'māori millionaires', activists, athletes and adventurers. It was a day about becoming yourself and understanding who you are, and what you are capable of! We loved the experience and we wish we could do it for the first time again! TALKING TO WILLIAM PIKE

1. A person should be a person first. It's not your parents, your friends, your job. They are who you are, not who you are not.	2. When you are young in the world, you are a person. You are not a child. You are not a baby. You are not a teenager. You are not a young adult.
3. Do not be afraid of who you are. You are who you are. You are who you are. You are who you are.	4. Be proud of who you are. You are who you are. You are who you are. You are who you are.

PINK SHIRT DAY

It was awesome to see so many students dressed in pink last Friday, to help support Pink Shirt day! The Black Hats organised some fun activities throughout the week to celebrate inclusivity and on the Friday we had a whole school game of capture the flag which was epic! It was also great to see all the happy faces!
